RODEO FLAG

Rodeo Flag

Description of Race

The rider races across the start and finish line to the barrel and picks up the flag and carries the flag back across the start and finish line. The rider may ride either a right or a left pattern.

Equipment

One (1) fifty-five (55) gallon barrel placed one hundred fifty-two (152) feet from the start and finish line. One (1) two and one-half (2 1/2) gallon plastic buckets without obstructions, such as bails or ears, each completely filled level with sand, to the top of the bucket, and put on top of the fifty-five (55) gallon barrel at the back edge, which is the edge furthest away from the start and finish line.

One (1) six (6) inch by eight (8) inch rectangular flag. The flag sticks are fourteen (14) inches long and one-half (1/2) inch in diameter with a three (3) inch marker on the flag stick to indicate how deep to put the flag down in the dirt. The flag is placed in the center of the bucket. There should be sufficient quantities of flags to keep the game moving.

Judges

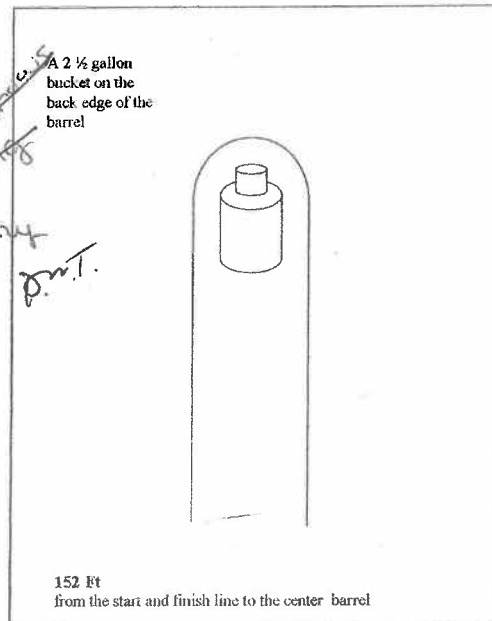

Two (2) judges. In addition to judging, they are responsible for placing the flag in the bucket, in the proper position.

Penalties

None

Disqualification

- Breaking the pattern
- Failure to pick up flag
- Dropping flag
- Flag touching the 55 gallon barrel or ground due to actions of horse or rider
- Knocking over barrel or bucket
- Hitting horse with flag or hand that the flag is in.
